

Meet Mark Mackey

Research & Development, Senior Scientist

Mark Mackey is the Chief Chocolatier of Ethel M Chocolates. He is responsible for product innovation, research, and design. Prior to joining Ethel M in 2015, Mackey spent 10-plus years in product development/R&D for Mars, where he helped create over 100 new products for the Dove® line. Additionally, Mackey holds U.S. and international patents for his work on improvements to the texture of white chocolate.

Mackey holds a degree from New York's Culinary Institute of America, and is pursuing a Bachelor's degree in food science. Mackey is based in Las Vegas, Nevada, and enjoys listening to live music, playing golf, and cooking.

Mark Mackey's favorite Ethel M chocolate is the:

Cherry Cordial

Ethel M
CHOCOLATES